Vol. 59 THE TOWNSHIP REGISTER, NILES, CALIFORNIA FRIDAY, JANUARY 31, 1947 No. 5

PRICE OF SCHOOL LUNCHES MAY BE INCREASED HERE

The possibility that the price of school lunches for students in the township might be increased before the end of the present term was expressed yesterday by school principals.

The schools are now receiving 9 cents per day for each pupil in the form of a government subsidy to assist them in serving low-priced lunches to the students. However, school districts have been notified that effective February 28 the subsidy funds will be discontinued.

The money has been advanced under the National School Lunch Act of 1946 but the notice states that the federal fund has been exhausted.

The discontinuation of the subsidy, which is nationwide in scope, will undoubtedly create considerable hardship on needy families having several children attending school.

The present price of the lunches in Washington Township averages $2 per month for the first child of a family and $1 per month for each additional child. Without the government subsidy schools will be faced with necessity of increasing the price of each meanl by several cents a day.

COMMUNITY CHEST GOES OVER QUOTA

Arthur Belshaw, executive secretary of the Washington Township Community Chest, announced this week that the $6,150 quota set for the drive had been met.

Belshaw did not state the exact amount of money raised in the month-long fund raising campaign but did reveal that a small amount of money over the quota had been turned in. He expressed belief that all funds from the volunteer solicitors had been reported.

"I wish to thank all the community chairmen and individual workers who did such a fine job during the campaign," Belshaw stated. "I realize that the campaign was staged during December which is a busy time for everyone."

"I also wish to thank all the people of Washington Township for their hearty response to the drive and their generous contributions. Once again we can all be proud that we have done our part toward aiding the worthy causes for which the money was raised," he added.

CHURCH DINNER IS BIG SUCCESS

One of the most entertaining after-dinner speeches heard in this area for a long time was that given Wednesday evening in the social rooms of the Niles Congregational Church by Dr. Burton Palmer, pastor pro-tem at the church.

The speech followed a "get-together" dinner cooked and served by members of the Ladies' Guild.

Dr. Palmer spoke on the use and misuse of the English language. He interspersed his talk with sparkling and entertaining examples of some of the common mistakes made in grammar and the use of words. One of the most mirth-provoking of all the examples he cited was one in which a brother of a deceased lodge member was paying him tribute at his funeral. He repeatedly referred to the departed as "our diseased brother" and closed by saying, "Our diseased brother has now sunk into immorality."

Dr. Palmer's address was preceded by a short talk by Mrs. J. C. Shinn, who gave a report on church functions. Fred Duffie also reported on the condition of the church.

The church choir sang two selections and Miss Lorraine McLean sang a solo.

CONDUCTS COURT IN HAYWARD

Judge E. A. Quaresma of Niles conducted Justice Court in Hayward Tuesday and Wednesday, sitting for Judge Jacob Harder Jr.

MEN'S CLUB NAMES WEBER PRESIDENT

Harry Weber, Centerville, was named head of the Washington Township Men's Club for the new year at a dinner meeting held at the Country Club on January 23. He succeeds Loren Marriott, Centerville.

Jack McGregor of Newark was elected vice-president, Claremont Secada, Centerville, was named to the post of treasurer, and A. J. Petsche, Niles, was re-elected secretary.

Approximately 100 club members enjoyed the dinner, prepared by the ladies of the Country Club, and a talk by Bert Buzzini, news editor of station KQW, who described many interesting experiences encountered in his years of radio broadcasting.

Ten new members were initiated into the club during the evening.

NEWARK RESCUE PARTY SAVES INJURED PILOT

Quick action by a group of workers from the Leslie Salt Co. in Newark in rescuing Forest R. Brown, 51, 951 46th street, Oakland, from the wreckage of his plane in a salt pond near that company's plant last Friday was credited with saving the life of the injured pilot.

Brown, who has 30 years of flying experience, had taken off from the Hayward airport, reportedly to deliver the plane to Dell, a small community near Newark, for rental purposes.

BARELY MISSES TRUCK

Salt company employees reported to deputy sheriffs investigating the crash of the light, privately owned plane that Brown had been flying low over the area previous to the crash. Richard F. Milatz of Irvington stated he was forced to bring his truck to a sudden halt to keep the plane from striking the vehicle as he was driving along the levee of the pond in which the plane crashed.

Th plane nosed over in the 12 inches of water in the salt pond and was completely demolished.

The rescuers waded out more than 100 yards into the pond to rescue the pilot from the plane. Members of the rescue party included Mervyn Christensen, Centerville; Maurice Caldeira, Newark; Anthony R. Cardoza, Niles; Max Mora, Newark; and Arthur Amaral of Irvington.

MULTIPLE INJURIES

The critically injured man was carried to the highway and placed on a stretcher, where he was picked up by the Dallas Paul ambulance from Centerville and rushed to Fairmont Hospital. He was found to be suffering from a skull fracture, fracture of the left ankle, possible hip fracture, facial lacerations, cut tendons in his right hand and shock.

He was later transferred to Merritt Hospital.

GAME WARDEN WORKS TO KEEP EVIDENCE ALIVE

The task of keeping evidence alive to be presented in court is sometimes more of a job than it sounds, especially if the officer involved is a game warden and the evidence happens to be 54 live clams.

Fred Rogers of Centerville, state conscervation agent, is the "adopted father" of the "live evidence" and his daily ritual since the undersized clams were taken from their possessor last Saturday until the case is heard today is something like this:

Place clams in a box of damp sind. Sprinkle with corn meal. sand. Sprinkle with corn meal. Cover with a damp cloth. Sprinkle with salt. Cover with another damp cloth. Add all the ice cubes from the refrigerator.

Sounds more like a recipe for some type of stew than the method for keeping the clams alive but Rogers claims it works and is confident that he will appear in court with them today and promises that no air conditioner will be needed.

Mission Sesqui Celebration Will Feature Pageant, Grand Ball and Historical Parade

Preparation for the Mission San Jose Sesquicentennial celebration, slated to take place May 30-June1, advanced from low gear into second when approximately 50 interested persons met Wednesday evening at the Mission grammar school.

Rev. Renault, chairman, outlined the schedule set up for the affair. It includes: a pageant, queen contest, grand ball, fireworks, open-air barbecue, historical parade, folk dances and amusements.

Doubt that planning for the celebration was moving along as well as it should was expressed by a number of those present. Lengthy discussion ensued on the hiring of an executive-secretary or manager familiar with handling organization and details of such affairs.

Finally, on the motion of Elizabeth Haskell Sloan, it was voted to select a committee to find such a person and make recommendations to the board of directors of the sesqui celebration. The committee is: Rev. Renault, Lois Bottenberg and Stuart McClure.

Rev. Renault reported that thus far there has been good success in getting cooperation for the event. John Sandoval of Hayward has agreed to write the script for the historical pageant, the Shell Oil Company has agreed to furnish fireworks, area for staging of the pageant has been arranged for, and Andy Hines of Linda Vista Park has assured complete cooperation in the amusement phase.

Present Wednesday evening to represent the County Board of Supervisors were Supervisor Chester E. Stanley and Col. Armstrong.

On the suggestion of Col. Armstrong it was voted to send telegrams to State Senator Arthur Breed and Assemblyman Francis Dunn to ask a portion of the funds which are expected to be set up by the legislature to assist in centennial celebrations.

HUSKIES DROP TO SEVENTH PLACE

The Washington High School Huskies varsity squad dropped to seventh place in the S.C.V.A.L. basketball standings last Friday by virtue of their 1-point defeat by the third-place Campbell quintet, 26 to 25.

The Huskie "B" aggregation moved up the ladder into third place in the "B" team standings by downing the Campbell squad 22 to 19.

The standing of the varsity squad by no means indicates that the Huskies have been playing inferior type of ball this season. Of the three defeats suffered by Coach Voorhees' lads a total difference of five points has separated their score from their victors. Santa Clara defeated them by a three-point margin and Mountain View and Campbell each by one point.

Tuesday afternoon on the home court the varsity Huskies went down in defeat before the powerful Lincoln High aggregation from San Jose but the "B" team nosed out a 16 to 14 victory.

The two Huskie squads will be hosts to the second-place Los Gatos teams on the home court tonight in two games slated to begin at 7:30 and 8:45.

Tuesday afternoon the varsity will meet the Moffett Field Marine quintet on the home court. The "B" team will be idle.

FORMER DECOTO RESIDENT HELD

Joseph C. Andrews, a former resident of Decoto, was ordered held on $1,000 bail and his arraignment delayed until January 31 to enable him to obtain counsel when he appeared before Judge E. A. Quaresma in Niles Justice Court last Friday to face charges of grand theft.

Complaining witness in the case is Rudolph R. Del Grade, San Jose, who charges that Andrews stole approximately $240 in cash and checks.

CHARLES COCKAFAIR IS RECOVERING

Charles Cockafair of Newark, who underwent an operation at San Jose Hospital Sunday, is reported to be well on the road to recovery and is expected to be released to return home the first of next week.

FIRST RAINFALL OF YEAR IS RECORDED

The first measurable amount of precipitation to fall in Washington Township since the new year came Monday night and Tuesday in the form of rain, hail and snow accompanied by thunder, lightning and high winds.

Agriculturists, gravely concerned over the dryness of the soil here, regarded the downpour as a "million dollar rain" and are hopeful that now the dry spell has been broken February will usher in a greater amount of rainfall than the past month has provided.

According to the rain gauge at the Southern Pacific depot a total of .69 of an inch fell during the storm.

Intermittent hail storms accompanied the rain but the hail stones were small and did not incur any damage to crops here according to several growers in the area.

Snow fell on the peaks behind Niles but melted immediately. Mission Peak at Mission San Jose, however, was blanketed with snow early Tuesday morning.

The total amount of rainfall recorded here since June 1, 1946, is 6.66 inches, which is far below par for the season. At this date last year 10.36 inches of rainfall had been recorded for the area for the same period.

L. & V. SCHEDULES FORMAL OPENING

The modern, newly completed L. & V. truck terminal and restaurant, located on the Centerville-Irvington highway, will be formally opened Saturday, Feb. 1, by the owners and operators, Ed Vieira and L. Amaral, both of Centerville.

The new facilities, which have been under construction since last April, include a fully equipped office, garage, tire shop, 60-foot truck scale, service station, restaurant and a truck loading terminal.

The public is invited to attend the grand opening and the managers have arranged to present flowers to all the ladies attending the festivities.

INHALATOR GIVEN

The Irvington Fire Department has added an inhalator to its equipment for use in emergencies wherever needed throughout the township.

The emergency life-saving device was presented to the department by the Promenaders, a social club of the community which donated the cost from its club fund.

NEWS from Walt & Ed

A lady came in the other day and said, "Boys, what is the difference between a woman chewing a cud or a cow chewing a cud?"

Well, we don't know the difference except the cow looks more intelligent.

We also know a lady looks more intelligent that has a water softener.

Come see us some time.

The FARMERS CORNER

by RALPH H. TAYLOR

Executive Secretary Agricultural Council of California

Webster's Dictionary defines equilibrium as a state of balance between opposing forces, influences and interests.

Economically speaking, much of life is a struggle to achieve equilibrium—to meet demand with supply, to earn profits balanced between cost price and sales price, to regulate expenditures in proportion to income.

When a healthy equilibrium is achieved in the affairs of men—in the relationship between capital and labor, between producer and consumer, between farmer and farm hand—the nation's economy prospers.

But when that relationship is upset, for whatever reason, either in the field of domestic or international economic relations, there is suffering and discord and strife. Although we may not have thought of them in that light, laws are designed to preserve equilibrium between "opposing forces, influences and interests."

In the field of international trade, the protective tariff laws impose a regulatory balance without which this nation's prosperity would soon find itself undermined. It is well to bear this fact in mind, because today Congress is being confronted once again with the old, old issue of whether to increase, lower or maintain present tariff barriers.

The question, according to a well-informed writer in the Wall Street oJurnal, is producing a rift between Democrats and Republicans "wider and deeper than over any other subject, not excepting taxes and labor legislation."

The Washington correspondent adds: "The outcome of this controversy will determine in great measure the sort of price competition American farmers and manufacturers will face from foreign producers in the years just ahead. It will influence, too, the weight of duties other nations will levy on U. S. products."

At the moment, the State Department, which with the President carries out the reciprocal trade program, is proposing to achieve "equilibrium" in the import-export trade of the United States by reducing tariffs on over a thousand items, provided that foreign nations reciprocate.

It is interesting to examine a few of the items embraced in the list. They include concessions on cattle and meat, cheese, apples, grapes, apricots, nuts, sugar, wines and distilled spirits, hides and skins, furs, tobacco, cotton and woolen goods, petroleum products, cream separators, fertilizers, soap, etc.

Historically, the Republican party has always stood for tariffs sufficiently high to maintain American living standards by protecting agriculture and industry from foreign competitors seeking to flood the American market with cheap goods. The Democratic Party has regarded tariffs with a jaundiced eye, and has charged in the past that Wall Street Republicans wanted high tariffs as a means of enabling them to exploit the American workingman.

The writer ventures to say that if there was ever any validity to the Democrat charge, then surely today, with all the protection afforded the American worker by his unions, he will be well able to take care of himself against Wall Street domination.

It is to be hoped that the new Congress, with its GOP majority—and possibly even with the voting assistance of Democrats who share their views on the vital question of tariffs — will not weaken the barriers raised to guarantee the people of this nation safeguards against low-cost production abroad.

Trade works both ways, of course, and the tariff wall should never be so high that it prevents nations from trading with us or leads them to establish tariff rates of their own which hamper the flow of American goods while favoring the goods of other nations competing with us in foreign trade.

To achieve fair tariff levels, there must be "equilibrium," but not an equilibrium established at the expense of any branch of the American economy. Senator Hickenlooper of Iowa, after examining the list of items on which the State Department has proposed to reduce tariffs, complained that the biggest cuts so far involve "competitive agricultural products, such as wheat, cattle, hogs and dairy products."

While the American farmer will deplore this finding, his present eminence as the world's greatest source of food may lead him to pay too little attention to tariff discussions that, in future years, will directly affect his pocketbook. Senator Wiley of Wisconsin made the observation a few days ago, in discussing the current tariff situation, that "when the world gets back into normal production we cannot compete with coolie labor rates."

That is a wise observation. And the farmer will be wise not only to dwell upon those words—but to act on them by making his voice heard and his wishes known in the halls of Congress.

SAFETY FLYING AID DEVELOPED

THE "FLYING RADIO-PHONE," developed by General Electric engineers and used in the personal plane of radio troupers, is shown being used by Edgar Bergen and Charlie McCarthy. Bergen can carry on conversations with airport towers and radio range stations with the set, and also receive radio programs from broadcast stations and radio navigation signals. General Electric is making the set at Syracuse, N. Y., for personal plane manufacturers and has already delivered more than 4,000 units. Purpose of the set is to help provide private flier protection by maintaining radio contact with the ground and also provide broadcast entertainment on long cross-country hops.

Getting Around

with The Editor

A NEW COLUMN

I suppose that I might have called this column "My Week." But I am neither a woman nor a Democrat.

However, we do settle things in our family democratically. My wife suggested that the paper, in spite of her no longer working on it, have a column; and she suggested that we vote on it. I voted No, but she voted Yes.

So, you see, the majority won. There is a column. And I'm writing it.

NILES AT NIGHT

Joe Hudson, night watchman of Niles, stopped in on one of his rounds late the other evening to tell me of a little incident up the street.

A couple of boys who had been whooping it up were indulging in a little name-calling in front of a certain bar. It seems that they were at the point of entangling physically when bystanders grabbed them and held them apart.

This wasn't the first time Joe came upon them this way.

Now, Joe isn't what you might call a psychologist; but again, maybe he is.

"If you guys are putting on a show," he said, "why don't you have somebody get a movie camera." He told the men holding the two apart to let them go.

Then he told one of the roisterers to go behind the hedge by the fire-house and get ready to fight. In a moment he told the other fellow to go over and fight it out. But there seemed no inclination.

Finally Joe goaded him into starting across the street. But by then the one behind the hedge had changed his mind and came back.

They didn't, apparently, want to fight at all.

Joe went on about his rounds. Pretty soon he returned. And it was the same thing all over again. The loud name-calling, the spectators, and the men holding them apart.

So Joe had them put in jail.

Last Friday I went over to the Niles Justice Court to see Judge Ed Quaresma take care of a little local crime. Nothing much out of the ordinary—just stabbing and stealing. And the judge was doing all right.

After court, I drifted into the back room for the talk fest. The two prisoners were being handcuffed together to be returned to jail.

"Cigarette?" one of them said to me.

I held out the pack.

He took it.

Yes. I mean the whole pack.

KIDS WILL BE . . .

The son of a certain Niles couple recently acquired a cornet so he could play in the orchestra at school.

Now, this cornet in itself is an interesting thing. It belongs to a man who once was a carnival musician. The horn had played plenty of hoochie-koochie. How would it be for school marches, or maybe boogie-woogie?

This remains to be seen. Right now the horn seems capable of only barn-yard noises. Or could it be the boy?

It seems, however, that the horn might be the undoing of the boy—who thinks it would be nice to be a nationally-known orchestra leader.

Orchestra leaders, he reasons, don't have to be able to read anything but music. So why bother to go to high school?

Which is where this boy will be going next year.

CENTERVILLE SCHOOL

By Barron Holland

Centerville Elementary School is making splendid progress with the March of Dimes. We have a committee in charge of the drive, consisting of Jerry Browning, chairman; Norman Coit, Vernon Correa, Milton Rose and Jimmy Leonard.

On Friday evening, February 7, at 8 o'clock, the students of Carol Jeanne will stage a dance recital for the benefit of the P.T.A. welfare fund. It will be held in the auditorium.

There will be a Boy Scout Court of Honor in the school auditorium on Feb. 12 at 8 o'clock. The Boy Scouts of Washington Township will receive awards.

Next Saturday, Feb. 1, at the Hayward Union High School, a show will be held for the Junior Traffic Patrols of southern Alameda county. The show will be sponsored by the Don Gilmore Chevrolet Company of Hayward. Following the show the boys and girls will be served hot dogs and cold drinks.

Last Thursday, January 23, the students of the seventh and eighth grades took a trip to the library. Miss Florence Little of the Alameda County Library, came from Oakland to tell of the various books and to direct the students in the library.

No Need to Increase Your State Gasoline Tax!

STATE HAS ENOUGH MONEY
TO BUILD NEW ROADS
WITHOUT INCREASED TAXES!

The Oil Industry believes:

California highways must lead the rest of the nation.

New highways must be built.

Our highways must be kept repaired.

But facts show that it isn't necessary to increase your gasoline tax to accomplish these objectives.

READ CAREFULLY:

1. Highway funds now available total $140,000,000
2. During the next four years total highway revenue from all sources will add to the fund $528,000,000
   This totals $668,000,000
3. Expenditures during this period (repairs, new roads and including the projected State super highways) will cost an estimated $633,000,000
4. This will leave a surplus of . $ 35,000,000

In other words, all major improvements in California highways during the next four years will still leave a multimillion-dollar surplus in the highway fund without raising taxes.

The Big Question is: Why does the State want additional hundreds of millions of dollars of YOUR MONEY during the next four years?

How will this money be used?

Before our gasoline sales tax is doubled (or even increased), every citizen in California has a right to know in detail where his money is going.

Right now a special session of the California legislature is considering this tax increase. There is no time to lose.

Express your views on this important matter. Write today to your Assemblyman and State Senator. Address him: State Capitol, Sacramento, California.

A 3c stamp can save you 3c a gallon for years to come!

Western Oil and Gas Association

"There is no apparent reason why the State gasoline tax should be doubled, or even increased. The Western Oil and Gas Association challenges the advocates of higher taxes to refute with detail the facts here presented."

NEW SCOUTS

The meeting of the Boy Scouts at the fire house Monday night was honored with a visit from John Cattaneo of Niles, Township Scout commissioner. He gave a short talk, stimulating the troop with important hints for the organization of patrols which will start with the next meeting. Patrol leaders and assistant patrol leaders will be appointed at that time.

Scoutmaster Pat Duna has been unable to attend past meetings because of his work, but now he can devote more time to his troop and feels that it will grow. Seven new boys were admitted at this meeting and more are expected to come in. The scoutmaster feels sure that his Decoto boys will make a good showing at the Court of Honor to be held February 12 at the Centerville Grammar school auditorium.

During Pat Luna's absence, Manuel Sevane, commissioner, acted as master and held the troop together with his enthusiasm.

GIVES CARD PARTY

On January 23, Mrs. Leontine Costa gave a card party in honor of her sister, Blanche Frates' birthday. Close friends and relatives were present. After a pleasant evening of cards, ice cream, cake and coffee were served.

NEW POSITION

Pat Luna, leaving the steel mill for a better job in Irvington, is now a salesman for Ed Rose' Electrical Supply Store. He began his new job around the first of the year.

ATTENDS FIRE MEETING

Fire Chief Roland Bendel went to an executive meeting of the Alameda County Association of Firemen in Chief Sandy's office at the Oakland fire department on Tuesday, Jan. 21. The program for the current year was discussed.

IMPROVEMENTS PLANNED

According to a member of the Chamber of Commerce, Ninth and A streets are the widest, smoothest and most beautiful streets in town. They are graded and rolled and ready for oiling.

The Home Decorator

Ray Hookway

SPRING isn't the only time to paint up and brighten up home interiors. With the new odorless, quick-drying, water-mixed wall finishes, there's no closed season on transforming dingy, drab rooms into a cheerful, attractive, more livable home.

Fall and winter months, for example, when you're indoors more than any other time of year, are ideal for doing the job. And you'll have immediate pleasure out of the more pleasant surroundings.

Right now ordinary paints, lacquers, varnishes and enamels are on the hard-to-get list. But if that has been delaying your decorating plans, you'll find the problem solved by the available supply of good mixed-with-water paint that you yourself can apply.

One need not be an interior decorator to plan and carry out a charming color scheme. Kem-Tone mixed-with-water paint that covers most interior surfaces—even wallpaper—with one coat now is furnished in a wide variety of delicate pastel shades.

Use of cool colors like soft shades of green or blue on walls gives a room the appearance of being more airy and spacious. Shades of yellow or orange produce a feeling of warmth and "draw in" the walls. Proper choice of wall color—usually combined with a white ceiling also helps make the most of natural light from the outside as well as the light from overhead fixtures, wall, floor and table lamps.

The makers of Kem-Tone offer these suggestions as easy steps to giving a room new freshness and beauty in a matter of hours:

1. Patch up plaster cracks with the new fast-drying plastic patch compound. Any loose wallpaper can be pasted down as you paint

2. Prepare the paint by simply adding a half gallon of water to a gallon of Kem-Tone. Load up the handy roller applicator in a shallow pan, set at an angle.

3. Some folks use a brush instead of the roller The roller, however, will give walls a distinctive stippled finish.

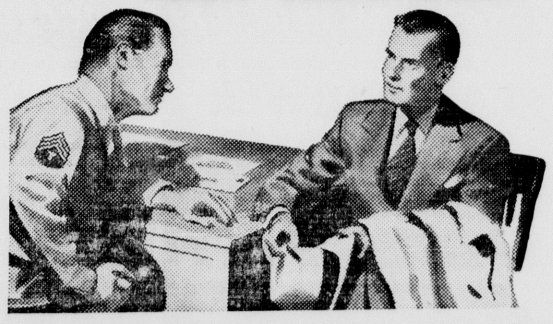
PEOPLE ARE ASKING THESE QUESTIONS ABOUT ARMY ENLISTMENT



Q. What educational benefits do I get under the GI Bill of Rights?

A. If you serve honorably on active duty for a period of 90 days, one day of which is served between September 16, 1940, and the date of termination of the present war, or you are discharged because of an actual service-incurred injury or disability incurred within that first 90-day period of service, you are, upon discharge, entitled to one year of education in the college, trade or business school of your choice for which you can qualify. In addition, each month of active duty, including the first three, prior to the termination of the war, entitles you to another month of post-service education, up to 48 months.

Your tuition, laboratory fees, etc., up to $500 per ordinary school year will be paid by the government. Also, you will receive $65 a month living allowance; $90 a month if you have dependents.

Q. What about family allowances?

A. For men enlisting or reenlisting now, family allowances will continue until six months after the war is officially ended.

Q. What are my chances of going overseas?

A. If you enlist for 3 years, you may select to serve in any overseas theater which has openings, especially Japan or Korea.

Q. Can I still choose the branch of service I want to serve in?

A. Yes. You can pick any branch which has quotas to be filled, if you enlist for 3 years.

Q. Is there any way I can reenlist in my old grade?

A. Yes, you can, if you reenlist for a 3-year term within 20 days after your honorable discharge.

Q. Is there any other way I can reenlist in grade?

A. Yes, if you held one of certain military occupational specialties, and were discharged on or after May 12, 1945, you can reenlist in a grade depending on the length of time you held the desired M. O. S.

"My 'Caterpillar' 2 Ton has been in operation since 1927 (37,500 working hours) without any major breakdown and with no delay on parts or service. Performance like this is well worth standing by. If it hadn't been for the dependability of my old 'Caterpillar' 2 Ton, I wouldn't have been able to keep up all the work there is to do in an orchard. I'm standing by for the new 'Caterpillar' D2."

ALVARADO DEATH CAR DRIVER HELD

Ette M. Knoble, 26, resident of the Geary Hotel, Fresno, and driver of the automobile that struck and fatally injured a workman in Alvarado January 22, appeared before Judge Allen G. Norris in the Centerville Justice Court Friday to answer to charges of manslaughter.

The defendant was ordered held on $2,500 bond and her case continued until January 31 to allow her time to obtain counsel.

Victim of the accident was Howard Marsh, 362 A street, Hayward. Marsh was installing a new gas pump at the General Petroleum station in Alvarado when the car driven by Miss Knoble failed to complete a curve in the highway and crashed into the pumps and station, injuring him so critically that he succumbed at the Hayward hospital several hours later.

In a statement to police following the accident Miss Knoble said:

I was driving at about 35 miles per hour. It was foggy . . . I applied my brakes and the car skidded . . . I closed my eyes and the car struck the service station. There was nothing I could do. After the car stopped someone came up and said I had hit a man . . . Said I killed a man."

Mrs. Marie Cash, also of Fresno, was asleep in the back seat of the car at the time of the crash. The machine was said to belong to a friend of Mrs. Cash.

The 11th annual March of Dimes in Washington Township scheduled to end January 30 has been extended to February 8, in accordance with the county-wide campaign, E. Dixon Bristow and J. V. Goold, co-chairmen of the township drive, announced this week.

Residents of the township were reminded that the polio appeal depends entirely on voluntary contributions and the appeal was made that cash donations be dropped into any one of the hundreds of coin collection boxes distributed throughout the entire area.

No tally of the amount of money received here to date has been made but Bistow stated that some organizations have contributed collections made during their meetings. Latest group to add its contribution to the fund was the Niles Fire Department.

REVOLUTIONARY TREATMENTS FOR ARTHRITIS, ASTHMA, SINUSITIS, ETC., NOW AVAILABLE IN LIVERMORE, CALIF.

This effective and successful method for the relief of arthritis, sinus involvement, migraine headaches and allied ailments has brought a multitude of ailing people to Tombstone, Arizona, to the extent that Time Magazine, page 19, November 19, 1945, has given it nationwide publicity.

Attention was focused to the fact that these treatments had created a second boom in Tombstone, the once prosperous silver mining town during the late 1880's. It was pointed out that all available living facilities, including two new tourist camps, could not cope with the many persons seeking treatments and that some patients are making daily trips from Tucson, a distance of 72 miles. It is claimed that in many cases this type of treatment brings almost an immediate response.

The foundation of this therapy is the production of a chemical change in the blood stream, which is said to produce a strong affinity of the circulating liquids for abnormal calcium deposits (arthritis) as well as eliminating stagnant waste material from the circulatory system, mucous membranes and other soft tissues (sinusitis, asthma).

While the principal of the treatment is identical with that in Tombstone, our generating units have been manufactured by Chlorogen of Arizona, claiming the introduction of some mechanical improvements.

The treatments are simple and easy to take and I invite the most difficult cases to take these treatments and watch results.

Call or write for proof of results obtained in my office.

Easy-to-make coffee cakes

For a hearty breakfast try making hot coffee cake. It will help supply that extra energy the whole family needs these cold winter days.

COFFEE CAKE DOUGHNUTS

Assemble the ingredients at night. Mix and pop into the oven the first thing next morning. These delicious doughnut-flavored coffee cakes will be ready with the rest of the breakfast.

1½ tbsps. shortening
½ cup sugar
1 egg
2 cups all-purpose flour
½ tsp. salt
3 tsps. baking powder
½ tsp. nutmeg
½ cup milk
½ cup chopped walnuts
¼ cup powdered sugar
½ tsp. cinnamon
¼ cup melted butter or margarine

Cream shortening and sugar until light and fluffy. Add egg and beat well. Sift and measure flour; sift again with baking powder, salt, and nutmeg. Add alternately with milk to creamed mixture; mix well. Stir in nut meats. Drop from tablespoon into well-greased small-size muffin pans. Bake in hot oven (400°F.) 20 minutes. Combine powdered sugar and cinnamon in paper bag. Dip coffee cakes in melted butter or margarine. Shake two or three at a time in powdered sugar. Serve hot. Makes about 12 individual coffee cakes.

BISCUIT ROLL COFFEE CAKE

Mix the night before; store in refrigerator and bake while you're getting breakfast. Though baked solid in a ring mold, these break into individual rolls when done.

3 cups all-purpose flour
4½ tsps. baking powder
1 tsp. salt
6 tbsps. shortening
1 cup milk
½ cup fruit juice
½ cup sugar
2 tsps. cinnamon

Sift and measure flour; sift again with baking powder and salt into large bowl. Cut in shortening with pastry blender or 2 knives; add milk and stir quickly and lightly until all flour is dampened. Place on lightly floured board and knead 20 to 30 seconds. Break dough off in small pieces; dip in fruit juice and roll in cinnamon and sugar. Stack 3 rows high, rock wall fashion, in well-greased 8-inch ring mold. Bake in moderately hot oven (400°F.) 30 minutes, or until done. Turn from mold and serve hot. Serves 6 to 8.

Where Have They Gone?

With some prices now reaching levels below the former OPA ceilings, this might be a good time to speculate on what has become of those professional howlers who made a career out of OPA jobs and who made a practice of sending out dire warnings of the chaos that would surely result if price ceilings were removed.

The ceilings and the calamity howlers have been missing now for some time—and we seem to be getting along nicely without them both.

This performance must be a cruel blow to those Calamity Johns wherever they may be secluding themselves now. And, worst of all—to them, it appears that the country will work out of its difficulties without recalling them to Washington to save the situation.

Illiberal "Liberals"

A "new, illiberal definition of liberalism" has become widespread in the field of American journalism, according to Frederick Lewis Allen, editor of Harper's Magazine.

The so-called liberal who fits this definition "isn't interested in the interplay of ideas; he is a soldier in a holy cause: all who side with him are great and good and all who oppose him are scoundrels."

Seems that the field of politics has had more than its share of these "liberals." They can usually be identified without difficulty because they are liberal in their support of leftish ideas and especially liberal with the taxpayer's money.

One happy fact is that Washington has not been so liberally sprinkled with them since the November election.

Tally Ho!

A report from England says that fox hunting has returned to the countryside after the long lay off due to the war. But things are not as they used to be. Clothes rationing has eliminated the traditional red coat.

Imagine the embarrassment of the English fox when captured by a huntsman not properly attired. It just isn't cricket.

MEN OF LABOR

LOCAL 1622

The carpenters are all set for their monthly social at Hayward, tonight (Friday). A report on the outcome will be made next week.

For some unknown reason, the party planned for February 22 has been called off. It seems the persons capable of handling a grand affair took another walk.

Any brother interested enough in his community and appreciating his friends will find this column and myself 100 per cent for backing a real get-together.

LOCAL 216

The Sheet Metal Workers are very fortunate to have two men with the foresight and backing of its members.

Congratulations to Brother Earl Cook, international representative of the Sheet Metal Workers, and Brother George W. Grosser, business agent, on a good contract. Take note, all business agents, before it is too late.

LOCAL 304

Business Representative Lee Lawlor of the Northern California District Council of Laborers, has returned after a siege of flu. We are all glad to see you back. Mrs. John P. Peregoy has added a great deal of pleasure and light to the Hayward Labor Temple.

LOCAL 1622

Local 1622 is in third place in the 48 northern counties. Also one of the newest locals, and still growing.

Most of the tradesmen working at your side are affiliated with the Alameda County Building Trades Council. It would be to the advantage of our future working conditions to reaffiliate with this council.

Only through the complete solidarity of the building trade crafts can we retain the proper wages and working conditions.

Now is the time to act.

PETROLEUM PRODUCTION

Since the first recorded commercial production of petroleum in the 1850's, the earth has been tapped for more than 33,000,000,000 barrels (of 42 U.S. gallons). The United States yielded nearly 64 per cent of this amount or about 22,000,000,000 barrels.

CONTROLLING A BALLOON

"Our national agriculture is a magic balloon in the sense that it is continually growing larger. Push it in one place and it bulges out in another."

This metaphor from Secretary of Agriculture Anderson passed on to us by Farm Advisor T. O. Morrison, sums up the whole problem of postwar agriculture in a nutshell.

"Picture yourself with a toy balloon in your hand which represents total national agricultural production," the secretary of agriculture said. "By pushing in this balloon you can contract it at one place. But when you do, it bulges out in another. In a like manner, we can contract the production of various agricultural commodities. And that is the problem in adjusting from war to peace. But we must realize that when we compress one crop, the balloon of total production will bulge out somewhere else; some other crops must expand. And should you try to force in on this balloon at all places at one time so as to contract its total size, you will find it an almost impossible undertaking. It will continually escape your fingers and bulge out in one place or another.

"So it is with national agricultural production . . . only more so, because our national agriculture is continually growing larger. Increased efficiency is continuing . . . and will continue . . . to manifest itself in greater total production.

PROTECT GRAIN FROM WEEDS

Spraying grain fields with 2,4-D to control star thistle, mustard, and wild radish is now timely in many sections. These and other broad leaf weeds cause large losses in grain crops if not held in check. Besides robbing the grain of plant food and moisture, the weeds reduce the value of the hay or straw.

The economical method of controlling broad leaf weeds in grain crops is spraying with 2,4-D. Dr. W. W. Robbins, botanist in the Agricultural Experiment Station, College of Agriculture, at Davis, recommends spraying the grain is from four to six inches high. Damage may be caused by spraying when the seedlings are very young.

The accepted method of application is by a boom with nozzles. Pressure recommended is from 75 to 125 pounds with delivery of the spray to the boom at the rate of 1.25 gallons per minute for each foot of boom. This amount will vary directly with the speed of the equipment. Dr. Robbins recommends use of three quarters of a pound of actual 2,4-D in 100 gallons of water. This quantity of spray should cover one acre. Such a mixture should cost from $2 to $3 per acre varying according to type of equipment used. Livestock or beneficial insects will not be poisoned by 2,4-D. Operators should be cautioned about drift to broad leaf crops. A very little of this material may be injurious to neighbors plantings.

SIZE OF CALF AND HEREDITY

The weight of a newborn calf is a clue to the rate at which it is likely to grow, says Vard Shepard, specialist in livestock of the Agricultural Extension Service. The size of the calf is influenced by heredity.

In studies based on 402 calves born as singles over a period of 14 years, some bulls consistently sired calves having birth weights heavier than the average. Other bulls sired relatively light-weight calves. Individual cows had a considerable influence on birth weight as well as on the subsequent development of the calf. The investigation showed that the birth weight of calves tends to increase with the age of the dams until they become six years old.

The calves checked in these studies were from 112 cows and 28 different bulls. Average weight of the calves was 70.5 pounds but the range in weight from 40 to 109 pounds. Calves that were heavier than average tended to reach a weaning weight of 500 pounds earlier than calves that were lighter at birth. Among 72 steer calves fed to a slaughter weight of 900 pounds, those that were heaviest at birth and at weaning time generally reached slaughter weight first.

CITE CHANGE IN VETERAN INSURANCE POLICY PAYMENT

Veterans Administration branch office in San Francisco this week urged all veterans mailing G.I. insurance premiums to use the yellow return envelopes provided with the premium notice.

Machinery to service the more than a million accounts in California, Arizona, Nevada and Hawaii has been geared to fast handling of the special envelopes, whereas ordinary mail goes through routine mail channels, VA said.

Although some envelopes mailed from New York during decentralization operations carried a return address to New York, veterans are reminded that the new mailing address for policy holders in California is 180 New Montgomery street, San Francisco 5.

EARLY SMOKING METHOD

FARM NEWS

THE CARE OF EARTHWORMS

You can afford to be skeptical about some of the wild claims concerning the advantages of "seeding" your soil with earthworms to improve it. Earthworms undoubtedly contribute to improvement of the soil, says Farm Advisor T. O. Morrison, but the purchase and propagation of them for soil improvement is not recommended for economical and biological reasons.

The farm advisor says Milton A. Miller, of the Division of Zoology of the College of Agriculture at Davis knows about earthworms. He says over periods of time where earthworms are numerous there is a considerable turnover of the soil from their activity. They deposit quantities of "earthworm manure" on the surface.

Don't get excited about some of the tall stories told about the advantage of stocking the soil with earthworms. Professor Miller says the soil can be enriched much more economically and quickly by addition of manure, commercial fertilizers, or the use of cover crops.

It is better to use your earthworms for fishing and follow the more common methods of soil improvement in farming and gardening.

SAVE THE GILTS FROM SPRING CROP

It is not too late to select some of the gilts from last spring's pig crop to raise next year's pigs. Farm Advisor T. O. Morrison says we will need a national crop of 58,000,000 spring pigs in 1947. This will mean keeping 13 per cent more sows than were used to farrow the 1946 spring pig crop.

In California, where we do not supply nearly enough pork for our population, the hog numbers have decreased 50 per cent over the past five years.

The farm advisor says livestock experts anticipate the feed-hog ration will be more favorable to hog production next year. By that, they mean the relation of feed costs to prices paid for pork-on-foot will be more favorable to the grower.

Lew Irwin, Irvington business man and aviation enthusiast, returned last week from a two weeks' flying trip in his own plane to midwestern cities.

Irwin, who made the trip alone, reported that he had a very enjoyable trip despite the fact that enroute home he ran into a blinding snowstorm and made an emergency landing alongside a highway in several feet of snow to await clear skies.

GRANDSON SUBJECT OF NEWSPAPER STORY

Mr. and Mrs. John Faria of Centerville are very proud this week of their 14-year-old grandson, Earle W. Johnson of San Mateo, whose interest in ichthyology was the subject of an article in a recent edition of the San Mateo Times.

The young man was "written up" in the paper, for which he is a carrier, as an example of a youth who is doing a good job now with the goal of being a scientist.

SEIDEL ADDRESSES TEACHER GROUP

Several teachers of Washington Township schools attended a meeting of the salary committee of the Alameda County Teachers' Association Thursday evening, Jan. 23, at the Hayward Union High School.

Vaughn D. Seidel, county superintendent of schools, discussed school legislation and presented charts showing estimated increases in apportionments the various districts will receive from the state for the 1947-48 school year.

Superintendent Seidel pointed out that each school district with the same or greater enrollment than last year will receive additional money from the state as a result of the passage of Proposition No. 3.

The committee meets weekly in Hayward to cooperate with boards of trustees to establish salaries with an eye to retaining the present staff of teachers and encourage younger people to enroll in the field of education.

This little guy faces a BIG JOB here in CALIFORNIA

Young 1947 arrived wearing working togs, with his sleeves rolled up. He found a muscle-bulging job ahead of him... in construction, increased business and industrial expansion.

He found nearly 9,000,000 residents in California, including more than a million new workers who came West with the wartime growth of industry. They are staying in California because industrial expansion is continuing. P. G. and E. contributed effectively to this continued growth by advertising California's opportunities nationally and setting up a staff of experts to help furnish business and industrial firms the facts about locating in this area.

We are going places in the West, and P. G. and E., looking to the future, again is building ahead of demand. Little Man 1947 is hard at work for us—on a $300,000,000 construction program to serve the growing needs of a greater California.
